2020 PROGRESS REPORT

Each year, Partnership for the National Trails System (PNTS) works in collaboration with the nonprofit trail organizations and Federal agency partners that represent the 30 national scenic and historic trails to compile the State of the Trails Report, a snapshot of the range and variety of resources, values, connections, and benefits the National Trails System provides to the nation. This is a work in progress. Some of the information, including the number of miles and historic sites permanently protected, is tracked irregularly or with varying degrees of certainty. PNTS will continue to collect and provide information trusting that the data will become more complete over time.

2020 was a year of great challenges and progress for the National Trails System. During the COVID-19 pandemic, more visitors sought outdoor activities for socially distanced recreation, leading to a great increase in trail use. Meanwhile, many trail organizations and federal workers pivoted some or all of their operations to remote work, limited or prohibited access to visitors’ centers and opted to change, reduce or temporarily cease volunteer activities to ensure the safety of visitors, staff and volunteers. Also, several trails were affected by devastating wildfires that left a significant mark on invaluable public lands and habitats.

There was much to celebrate as well. For example, the Great American Outdoors Act (GAOA) was passed by Congress with bipartisan support. GAOA, arguably, is the most significant trails and conservation legislation in decades. It secures permanent funding for the Land & Water Conservation Fund and provides funding for deferred maintenance for facilities—including trails—within the National Parks, National Wildlife Refuges, National Forests and Bureau of Land Management Districts. These resources have potential to greatly advance goals to complete and maintain the National Trails System.

NATIONAL TRAILS SYSTEM CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES

- Transforming the national scenic and historic trails from a collection of premier trails into a national public lands system like the National Park System and the National Wildlife Refuge System or the National Wilderness System.
- Completing the trails on the ground—closing the gaps in the scenic trails and preserving and interpreting all the “high potential sites and segments” along the historic trails.
- Growing all of the national trail organizations to greatly enhance their capacity and resources and that of the Federal trail agencies to be able to fully develop and sustain the National Trails System.
